ASSASSINATION REVEALS WELL LAID PLOT

Every Precaution Being Taken to Suppress Disorder in Vienna and Budapest.

(Special to The Herald)
Geneva, Oct. 23.—The assassination of the Austrian Premier, Count Steuergk, has been followed by the discovery of a well formed conspiracy against Austrian ministry. The police and military authorities have arrested Polish politicians and Bohemian politicians. Every precaution is being taken by the Austrian ministry to suppress any disorder in Vienna or Budapest. Soldiers are patrolling the streets of the capital.
In accordance with precedent, all the ministers will offer their resignations, but it is not expected they will be accepted by Emperor Francis Joseph.
The Minister of the Interior, Prince Hohenlohe-Schillingensfurst, who is on leave of absence will return immediately to Vienna and will act as Premier for the present. The Minister of Finance, Dr. von Koerber, intended to depart today for a trip of inspection in Bosnia, but has postponed his departure.

FEAR SAFETY OF FOUR PERSONS AT BAR HARBOR

Left Late Saturday Afternoon for a Sail
in a Motor Boat--Searchers Find No Trace of Party

(Special to The Herald)
Bar Harbor, Me., Oct. 23.—Four persons are believed to have been lost at sea near here as the result of a motor boat being swamped in the storm of Saturday night. Those missing are Edward Hillgrove, aged 17, a brother and sister Edward and Cora Robinson, aged 8 and 5, and William Webster the owner, and who ran the boat. The four started out late Saturday afternoon in a 15-foot motor boat for a sail down the bay. Searchers who returned today found no trace of the party.

Successors of Count Steuergk are Prince Hohenlohe-Schillingensfurst, Baron von Beck, former Premier, and Dr. Koerber.
The Austrian House of Deputies has been closed since March, 1914, and, in accordance with the constitution, ought to be re-elected next spring.
There have been constant demands for the re-opening of the house, which Premier Steuergk consistently resisted, pleading that secrecy was imperative and that national affairs had better be left to the Crown Ministers.

WILL SPEND $174,000 ON THE TOPEKA

Vessel Will Be Fitted Out Here for the Naval Militia.

The navy department has decided to rent the former prison ship Topeka for service on the Great Lakes.
The vessel, now at New York, will shortly come to the Portsmouth navy yard where the sum of $174,000 will be expended as follows: $130,000 for steam engineering, $34,000 for construction and repair, and $10,000 for other work and equipment.
The boilers and engines will be installed on the lakes, owing to her draft, but will be assembled at the local yard.
The ship will be used for training purposes by the Minnesota Naval Militia. Since the ship has been at New York she has been used as a station ship.

FRENCH CAPTURE IMPORTANT HILL POSITION

Paris, Oct. 23.—An important gain by the French in their drive toward Bapaume on the Somme front from the south has been made. The war office today announced the capture from the Germans of Hill No. 128. Hill No. 128 is on the Somme between the powerful German position at Transloy and Sailly-Sailles. South of the Somme railroad the Germans made counter attacks to hold the advance of the French forces. They were repulsed.

POLICE COURT.

John H. Kelley and Michael O'Connell, both of Manchester, furnished part of an interesting session before his honor this forenoon when they appeared to answer to the charge of fancy fighting in their temporary place of abode on High street. They were mixing it up on the carpet on Saturday night when a call for the police jitney was sent in and the fighters from the Queen City were interned at the camp over Sunday. Today, O'Connell with a disordered eye and a scratched nose, told the court that Kelley was responsible for the appearance of his map. Kelley said O'Connell was a much mistaken man and that O'Connell was getting to close to him in an argument and that he simply brushed him aside. "How did he get the black eye and the injured nose?" inquired the court. "He got that falling out of bed," said Kelley, "and the people in the house said so." The court was satisfied that O'Connell was on the defensive and ordered Kelley to hunt up kale amounting to $11.90. O'Connell was discharged. They are both employed on a contract job for the New England Telephone Company.
Israel Wallace, Andrew Connors and Guy Perodoux were found guilty of breaking and entering and larceny of liquor from the saloon of Boni Constantino on Water street and were held for the April term of superior court. Bail was set at $100 each.
William Smith, another stranger, separated himself from $11.13 for drunkenness.

PLAN ANOTHER ZEPPELIN RAID OVER LONDON

Eighty Large Machines Being Constructed in Germany for a Raid Intended to Wreck the City

(Special to The Herald)
New York, Oct. 23.—Eighty Zeppelins are being constructed in Germany for a gigantic raid over London in the near future, according to a special to the Herald from London. The Germans plan to wreck the city. Evidently angered by the fruitless and costly

ROUMANIAN SEAPORT IS IN DANGER

Capture of Constanza by the Bulgarians Appears Imminent.

(Special to The Herald)
The Bulgarians are playing an important part in the operations in the two zones of operation that may have an effect in deciding the new course of the war. In Macedonia, the Bulgarians who have been defending Monastir, on Sunday assisted in the assaults against the Serbian lines made in the attempt to break them.
All the assaults were repulsed in desperate and bloody fighting in Dolrudja. But the forces under Von Mackensen have moved largely forward, the Bulgarian forces which make up the larger part of his armies, have gained six miles in the last 24 hours towards the vital Roumanian seaport of Constanza. This advance leaves them within four miles of the point and it is expected that within another 48 hours the offensive will have succeeded in breaking the Roumanian resistance. The capture of Constanza appears imminent. The fall of Roumania will place the campaign of the Russo-Roumanians in a serious predicament and will end the peril of a Russian invasion of Bulgaria.
It is officially admitted in Petrograd and Bucharest that the Russo-Roumanian forces are in retreat. The decisive victory of the German allies has safeguarded the railway communications between Germany and Turkey and opens the way for an invasion from the southeast.
Another link has been forged by the Allies in the encircling drive against Bapaume in France. The French have captured Hill No. 123 southeast of Bapaume and the German forces have been driven back a considerable distance. Another successful raid by French airmen was made, four tons of explosives having been dropped on blast furnaces and the railroad station held by the Germans north of their fortress at Metz.

CORNSTANZA IS CAPTURED

Berlin, Oct. 23.—Field Marshal Von Mackensen and his German-Bulgarian armies have captured the important port of Constanza, on the Black Sea.
The capture of the city is regarded as highly important as it gives the Germans the control over the railroad facilities and an opportunity to land forces at this important point.

POSTPONED FOR ONE WEEK.

The local committee in charge of the Armenian-Syrian Relief Day have found it necessary to postpone the observance for one more week, from Oct. 28 and 29 to Nov. 4 and 5. The central committee has as yet been unable to meet the demands for illumination, the means of advertising the purpose and the importance of the aid sought.

COLORS WOMAN AND CHINAMAN ARE MARRIED

Third Plunge for Ah Hee and Second for Louella Bennett.

The return of a marriage certificate to the city clerk today likely shows the only matrimonial event of its kind on record in this state, that of a Chinaman and a colored woman. The contracting parties are Ah Hee and Mrs. Louella B. Bennett, who claims to be a nurse by profession. The groom is a native of Hong Kong, China, aged 59 years. He is a steward on one of the ships of the navy now at the navy yard and is a widower.
This is his third plunge into wedded life and the second for the bride.
They were married by Haywood B.
Burton, a justice of the peace.
The groom, although a servant of Uncle Sam is said to have accumulated considerable money and will shortly retire from the service. Mrs. Hee is a native of Trio, North Carolina, and has lived here several years.

ble storm which swept Lake Erie on shipping and rivaling the great storm of November, 1913. Grave fears are held for a higher loss of life, ships and cargoes than are now known.

MR. HODGDON LOST SUIT IN $5,000 SLANDER CASE

Verdict Returned Against Kittery Resident at Bangor, Me. Motion is Filed for New Trial by Plaintiff

After a deliberation of four hours, the jury returned a verdict for the defendant on Saturday afternoon at Bangor, Me. In the $5,000 slander suit of John W. S. Hodgdon of Kittery, formerly a teacher in the Bangor high school, against D. Lyman Worra, superintendent of the schools.

After the verdict, Atty. Gen. W. R. Pataagall and Attorney Phillips B. Gardner, counsel for Mr. Hodgdon, filed a motion for a new trial.

The suit was based upon interviews with Worra published in both Bangor papers, in which he was quoted as making a statement which reflected on the teacher's mental condition, and which, Hodgdon claimed, had prevented him from securing teaching positions and that he was obliged to work as a laborer. The defense was a claim of misquotation and also that if the quotation had been correct the statement was true.

Justice Haley, in charging the jury, told them that three verdicts were possible: That the professor was sane and the defendant said the words; as quoted, in which case damages should be awarded; that the defendant did not say the words as quoted and is not liable; that defendant said the words, but the plaintiff was not injured at the time and not entitled to recover damages.

The jury made an earlier report of a disagreement, but Justice Haley urged them to return and attempt to avoid a retrial.

HEARD AT THE NATIONAL CAPITOL

(Special Correspondence)

Large numbers of Civil War, Spanish-American War and Philippine War veterans throughout the country have applied for pensions, or for increases in pensions, and who are wondering why they have not received a reply to their applications. They should know that the Pension Office is holding up notices of rejection of applications. The notices no doubt will be sent out after the November election.

For about two months the Pension Office has failed to send notices of rejection of applications for pensions. This is a political scheme because a veteran whose pension is pending and who does not know whether it will be allowed or rejected is not apt to be hostile to the Wilson administration. Thousands of these claims are being held up in an endeavor, by Congressman Saltschaber, or his assistants, to aid Wilson's campaign.

At a mass meeting of trade unionists at Kennedy Park, near Pittsburgh, Pa., on last Labor Day, James

Wilson, president of the Pattern Makers' League of America, said:

"I would rather have seen the wheels of industry stop than that the Congress of the United States should regulate the hours of labor and rates of wages for free men."

The dominant note of Mr. Wilson's address was a plea to organized workers to include the unorganized in the movement. He upheld the forced action of Congress as an example of union labor's power. Then he criticized the National Labor Relations board, first for passing a law for the benefit of 400,000 Germans when at the same time they could have given an eight-hour day just as easily to the 1,000,000 unorganized employees of the railroads and second, for regulating the hours and wages of "free men."

If Charles Evans Hughes is elected president, Skamania county, Washington, will have a new lumber mill with a capacity for manufacturing 60,000 feet of lumber a day, says the Kalama, Wash., Bulletin, under date of September 22. The contract for the building of the plant has been signed, contingent upon the election of Mr. Hughes.

The contract was arranged by Frank Melvin of Portland, who owns 60,000,000 feet of timber in Skamania county, with buyers who have agreed to build a mill and use at least 50,000 feet of timber a day for five years.

Pacific coast fishermen complain that the Canadian government has refused them bait and supply privileges at Canadian ports, says the Cordova, Alaska, Times, under date of September 21. It is also reported that Canada has blacklisted American fishing vessels in North Pacific waters. This is an ill return for giving Canada free trade in fish in the American market, as was done in the Democratic tariff law, under which Canada has nearly doubled her sale of fish to us, although the Democratic party, assuring us that free trade would reduce the cost of fish, is now blaming the high cost of fish to the sharks on the Atlantic coast.

The American fishermen can help bring Canada to her senses by voting for the restoration of protective rates on her exports of fish to our market through the election of a Republican congress and president.

STATE NEWS

Telephone Box Robbed

Oakham, Oct. 23.—The Boston and Maine railroad station was broken into and robbed during Saturday night or early yesterday morning. The telephone money box was wrecked and the contents taken, papers on the desk were thrown about the room, but the thieves were unable to gain entrance to the ticket box or safe.

The break was discovered by the station agent when he opened for the noon train yesterday. An automobile's tracks were seen running to the depot from the main road. Strangers were seen in town yesterday in a machine. The officers of nearby towns were notified to be on the lookout for the men. The collection from the telephone box was made the day before, so the harvest gathered by the thieves was small.

Evidence of a Struggle

North Walpole, Oct. 23.—The body of a man believed to be that of Frank Dwinell, aged 55, of Walpole, N. H., was found yesterday afternoon by Joe Kane in North Walpole across the Connecticut river from Bellows Falls, about 60 feet from a path leading to Table Rock, an elevation on Mount Kiburn. Kane notified Patrolman Patrick Tynan and Sergeant William J. Corbett of North Walpole.

The ground had been torn up, evidently by the struggles of the man and the right hand tightly grasped a piece of wild grapevine.

While Mr. Corbett says he does not suspect foul play, other evidence will not be made public by the selectmen until the arrival tomorrow of Medical Examiner Denham and Sheriff Lord of Keene. The body is in the undertaker's morgue, here, awaiting the arrival of Cheshire county officials. It is thought death occurred last Thursday or early Friday morning.

Dwinell lived in Walpole and has an aged mother there. He was of a roving disposition, it is said.

Durham, Oct. 23.—The New Hampshire State Horticulture Society will hold its annual meeting at Keene Oct. 25-26-27. New Hampshire college will send as speakers Director J. C. Kendall of the Experiment station and Dean Taylor, Dean Knowlton, Prof. O'Keefe, Prof. Wolf and Prof. Courley of the faculty.

Gardner Resigns

Exeter, Oct. 23.—At the regular meeting of the trustees of Exeter Academy in Boston Saturday, Perley Gardner of Exeter resigned as clerk and his place was filled by Rev. Dr. S. H. Dunn. The usual routine of business was transacted. Mr. Gardner is a graduate of the academy, class of 1891.

Believe Trial Will be Held in Ossipee

Ossipee, Oct. 23.—It is believed that the attempt of the attorneys William C. Mathews and Sidney Stevens of Somersworth, counsel for Fred Small, accused of the murder of his wife, to have his trial in some other county than that in which the crime was committed has been abandoned. It is likely that the counsel will attempt to have the jurors chosen from some other town in Carroll county than Ossipee.

Burglars in Nashua

Nashua, Oct. 23.—Burglars entered the store of the Hill hardware company in the Eaton building shortly after 8 o'clock Saturday night by breaking a pane of glass in a window in an alley at the side. The broken window was discovered by Patrolman Butters, who had passed the building only about ten minutes before when everything was intact.

PITTSBURGH STARTS DRIVE TO BAN "SMOKY CITY"

Pittsburgh, Oct. 23.—Climaxing a 4-year campaign for the elimination of smoke in the elimination of Pittsburgh industries, "Smoke Abatement Week" opened today with an address before the Hungry Club, by J. W. Henderson, chief of the bureau of smoke regulation. Mr. Henderson after outlining the wonderful results obtained by four years work, declared that it was the aim of the smoke and dust abatement league to make Pittsburgh known as the "clean city" rather than the "smoky city" as it has heretofore popularly been known.

A series of meetings throughout the week attended by plant owners, engineer railroad men and the general public will be held. Osborn Meinel, of Chicago will address the meetings, telling of the progress made there in smoke abatement. Several other nationally known experts in smoke abatement are here to assist him.

Several autos passed through here on Sunday with deer showing from the running boards and rear of their machines.

When you take the receiver off of the switchhook of your telephone, a small electric lamp is lighted on the switchboard in front of the operator. To that signal she responds with the familiar "Number, please?"

After your connection has been made with the other person, there are no lights on the switchboard until your receivers are placed on the switchhooks again, which signals mean, to the operator, that the conversation has ended.

If you desire to get the operator's attention, you may do so by moving the receiver hook down and up, but IT MUST BE DONE SLOWLY, or the little lamp will not glow on the switchboard and the operator will not get any signal. Your observance of this method of signaling will insure more prompt attention by the operator and will help to make the service better.

PREDICTS EQUAL SUFFRAGE WILL END NATION'S WARS

Western Speaker Before Equal Suffrage League of Portsmouth Made Startling Statements at Meeting on Saturday Evening

"The man who doesn't believe in equal suffrage today is a man without a party," said Miss Stearns of Milwaukee, Wis., the principal speaker at the open meeting held on Saturday evening by the Portsmouth Equal Suffrage League in observance of Federal Amendment Day. Miss Stearns proved a speaker with an accurate knowledge of her subject and her statements were backed forcibly by facts which she had at instant command. She is making a tour of the eastern states in the interests of the equal suffrage movement and she speaks with vigor and enthusiasm which comes only from an intimate acquaintance with the facts at hand.

The meeting was held at Association Hall, Y. M. C. A. Building under the auspices of the Portsmouth Equal Suffrage League and was largely attended. Similar meetings were being held in practically every other city in the country. The meeting was opened by Mr. Frank E. Leavitt by explaining the meaning of Federal Amendment Day as a day set by the Equal Suffrage League of America to further the interest in the passing of the federal amendment for equal rights for all men and women who are citizens of the United States.

The progress of the suffrage movement in the past few years was shown on a chart by Miss Bertha Vaughan who explained in brief statements the meanings of the shaded portions of the map and chart. The chart showed the 12 states in the union which had already given the right of suffrage to its women citizens, all who will have the right of voting at the Presidential election next month. The views of prominent men in the country on the suffrage question were shown on the chart, the statements coming from President Wilson, Samuel Comer and others. The statements contained in the platform of the political parties were also shown on the chart.

Miss Stearns made a number of very strong statements regarding suffrage. She appeared very optimistic concerning the small number in attendance at the meeting and said that after equal suffrage came the meeting of this group on Federal Amendment Day would be an historical event. She predicted the election of Janet Rankin to Congress from Montana because of the humanitarian platform for which she stood.

Five Days For Work

She said in a part: "After all, what we want is a safe, sane and peaceful America, and before we can have that we will have to settle nine great problems, namely: (1) labor; (2) ownership; (3) liquor; (4) race; (5) war; (6) women; (7) public education; (8) popular government; (9) public leisure. The eight hour day cannot solve the labor problem," she said, "until we have it five days working week. Five days for work, one day for recreation and one day for worship."

She explained the need of settling the question of a living wage and spoke at length concerning industrial conditions of women. Concerning unjust taxation of the land she gave specific instances of where thrifty western farmers were taxed, not according to the land value, but as their property appeared to the average eye—a case of thirty looking homes being penalized for their owner's industry.

"Equal Suffrage Closing Saloons" Concerning the liquor question Miss Stearns said that Equal Suffrage was closing the saloons. She also said that the workingman's compensation act was having an effect on the sale of liquor. She said that this act is making for temperance for in the question of efficiency and safety, drinking men are barred. In speaking of the effect of equal suffrage on temperance, Miss Stearns said, "Within one year after year equal suffrage was granted in the state of Illinois over sixty counties went 'dry', 1,231 saloons were closed, Chicago, East St. Louis and one other city being the only ones in the state remaining in the 'wet' list, and these will not be there very much longer."

"As regards race," she continued, "I wish that we were colorblind. We need the Golden Rule in the Constitution. When we look for instance, into Mexico, we find not all of the trouble on the other side of the Rio Grande. We tell the story very near the Rio Grande that after God made the world he had a little mud left over, out of which He made Mexico and the Mexicans."

No More War When Women Vote. Miss Stearns said that there would be no more wars after women had the vote. She spoke of the countries of Finland, Sweden, and others where women had the parliamentary vote and said that these countries were at the present war. She called attention to the statement of Rudyard Kipling who spoke of woman as a "frag, a hound and a bank of hair." In his poem "The Vampire," he said that he had lived to see woman gain the vote in England and France. She spoke of the conditions in British Columbia, Saskatchewan, and other Canadian provinces where women have been accorded the franchise as a reward for their work since the beginning of the European war.

Miss Stearns paid high tribute to Jane Addams, whom she characterized as "the first citizen of the United States whom I like to think of as the Author Atlas, bearing the great burden of the world's care and worries."

In closing she said, "What we women want to do is to help in all these difficulties. We want to do our share and we feel that we have a very great share in the world's work. Concerning public leisure we want to decide whether there shall be motion, or emotion, pictures. This whole question of public leisure with its modes of entertainment, must be decided. We are not crying for equality, for we have that, but we want to help others lead lives of service in the family, in the city, state, and country; in humanity and before God. Our short cut to this end to service is in equal suffrage which we hope to gain through the passing of the federal amendment."

At the conclusion of her address Mrs. Conner read the women's protest while a tableau was enacted on the stage. This was a reproduction of the one staged at St. Paul when President Wilson was renominated by the Democratic convention for the presidency. There were three central figures in the tableau. Victory, portrayed by Miss Helen Laighton, gowned in orange; and Mrs. Sweetser and Miss Fisher on either side, as blind justices. Miss Fisher was gowned in green and Mrs. Sweetser in blue. Their costumes resembled the Greek toga and were very effective in point of coloring and sentiment. Three groups, behind the central figures, those were black figures with chained hands, representing the states which had not yet granted the franchise to women; grey figures representing the states which had granted partial suffrage to women; and white figures representing the states in which women had gained the vote equally with the men citizens. The tableaux was arranged under the direction of Miss Mary Heflinger.

BOSTON LETTER

Boston, Oct. 23.—A committee of the Governor's Council has begun an inquiry as to the wages, hours and duties of some 9500 permanent employees of the state and counties, connected with some 140 departments and institutions. This committee which is composed of Councilors Channing Smith, Herbert P. Wagsall and Timothy J. Buckley, is acting under Chapter 91, of the Resolves of 1916, which looks to the standardization of salaries of certain state and county employees. It is claimed that in some instances such employees receive more than the rates given for such work in private employment, while in other instances less is paid than outside the public service. The committee has approved a questionnaire with about twenty queries to be asked permanent employees of the state. There are two questions to be answered by the head of the departments regarding the work of each employee, one as to whether the duties performed are logically within the scope of the position, and also what technical training or experience is required for the satisfactory performance of the duties. The question as to temporary employment are somewhat similar. The total salaries the executive council will be obliged to consider in any standardization plan is $7,648,259.29.

Billy Sunday will take no chances of Boston women removing their hats of their own free will and choice in his tubercular. One of the first rules for ushers in the newly issued list of instructions is to see that women discard millinery before the first hymn of the service has been sung, so that "Please remove your hats" seems destined to be heard frequently above the notes of "Brighten the corner, where you are."

Herman C. Lythgoe, chief of the division of food and drugs of the state department of health, who has been investigating the milk supply of Boston for the past several days, said today that he has found no evidence that dealers doing business in Boston are using "milk powder." Samples of milk sold by all the large dealers in and around Boston have been tested in the laboratories of the state department of health. "I have also analyzed samples of milk purchased by the same dealers. It appears that the dealers are selling the milk in practically the same condition as it is received by them except that they pasteurize it," Mr. Lythgoe said.

Massachusetts Institute of Technology students stand by a great majority, for Charles Francis Hughes for president. That was the indication as shown by a straw vote taken of the three upper classes. By classes the vote was: Seniors, Wilson, 16; Hughes, 281; Benson, 2; Henley, 1; Juniors, Wilson, 58; Hughes, 104; Benson 1; Henley, 9.

The sudden atmospheric changes which Boston is now experiencing are causing many a man's watch to run amuck. As a result, the jewelers are reaping a harvest and hundreds of commuters are banking on the old town clock in making their morning trains. The peculiar weather conditions have caused some watches to gain time, some to lose time, and some to stop keeping time at all. The trouble is laid to the sudden rise and fall of the temperature.

FATIMA

A Sensible Cigarette

More men are now smoking SENSIBLY—

MEN ARE willing to think a little more carefully today even about the cigarette they choose.

That is good sense. For if an otherwise good cigarette is unfortunate in its blend—if it disturbs after continued smoking—it is not worth while.

The one reason why Fatimas appeal strongly to so many thinking men is that they do not disturb. Fatimas are truly comfortable—comfortable to throat as well as tongue. And they always leave a man feeling fine and "fit" even after a long-smoking day.

DAILY SPORT BUDGET

By Frank G. Menke

New York, Oct. 23.—Sometimes a battler can do himself a lot of financial harm by fighting too hard, by beating up foes with too much skill and ferocity, as the case of Bob Moha will show.

"Concentrated Dynamite," after semi-retirement, came from out of the so-called Golden West and amazed the natives of Gotham by picking a quarrel with Joe Cox, the very same gent who is credited with having forced Jess Willard to quit. The amazement increased when Jess, 6 feet, 6 inches tall and displaying about 150 pounds battered the giant 225 pound Cox all around the ring.

Now, the natural conclusion was that Moha showing would make him the reigning pugilistic sensation in New York and put him in a way to earn large flocks of gilded shekels. Moha is the sensation, all right, but as for making capital of it—no.

Moha is willing—wildly so—to fight anyone in or out of jail. He'll fight anywhere, anytime, over any route and for any amount. But no one will oblige him. Each and everyone of our so-called heavyweights has heard what he did to Cox and they suddenly have become too proud to fight the whirlwind midget. A dozen promoters in Greater New York are willing now to put on Moha and guarantee the other bloke a piece of rubles. The fans are clamoring for another exhibition of "Concentrated Dynamite." But Moha is the boogie man of the ring today; he has injected fear into the bosoms of his natural foes.

Charlie Welner, the Newark husky was matched to meet Moha along in September. Suddenly the match was postponed to October 12, and again it was postponed. The new date is set for October 31. Will the two ever meet? Ask Welner—he knows.

What's this Moha like? Well, the following was voiced by a ring expert and maybe it will explain why the boys who are Goliaths in comparison with Bob, refuse to get into his immediate zone:

"Moha is a vest pocket edition of Tom Sharkey, as regards rushing, amazing punching power and ability to assimilate punishment. But Moha is far shiffter than Sharkey, a real boxer, a ring general and has the courage that is 'sublime.'"

If Charlie White were only half as good a fighter as he or his manager—is an all expert, the fighting product of Europe would be champion of the world.

It took Charlie quite a while to get around to it but he is abroad at last with an abili for his defeat at the hands of Freddie Welch in Colorado Springs on Labor Day. Charlie would have all of us know that he, not Mr. Welsh—was the victor of the affair. "Twice over thus in any ow White's fights. Ask him and he will tell you he never lost."

The accounts of that fusco which have trickled into the east convinced 99 per cent of the fans that our contention was correct that White is nothing more, nor will ever be anything more than a star minor league. Against duhs he sizes up as a wonder. Put him against a top notcher and he acts like a novice. He has had several chances to "get" Freddie Welsh. All he ever got in any of his fights was a beating.

White's showing out in Colorado against the champion was said to be an awful exhibition. Ring experts who saw the milling declare that Mr. White stood flatfooted and seemingly in a daze throughout; that he acted like a man in a hypnotic trance; that Welsh hit him when and where he pleased.

And now, White in a lengthy circular letter all those who care to listen that he won from Welsh. Can you hear it?

"THE HOUSE OF GLASS"

"The House of Glass," Cohen & Harrell's great dramatic triumph and one of the few successes of the past New York theatrical season to achieve a season's run in that city, will be the next attraction to come to the Park Square Theatre, Easton. The piece opens here on next Monday, Oct. 30, for a limited time only, with identically the same great New York cast, headed by Mary Ryan and including nearly a dozen other notable performers.

"The House of Glass" is an absorbing drama of contemporary life and shows how relentless society and of-fendment are in hounding persons who once have had the stamp of conviction upon them, even though they may be innocent.

The man who lives in the glass house in this instance is a rising young railroad magnate who is unaware that his wife moved a year and a half in prison, a decade previously, for a crime which she did not commit, but the circumstances of which were all against her.

A youth in the offices of the railroad has stolen the company's money, and this husband is determined to punish him as an example to others in his employ, even though the strongest social, political and financial influence is brought to bear to persuade him to give the boy another chance. He does finally consent to, but not until, through an exciting chain of circumstances, he discovers that his own wife has been a convict.

Mary Ryan as the persecuted wife, is said to do the best work of her career, and is supported by the cast of well known players who appeared in "The House of Glass" during the years' engagement in New York.

MIGHTY VERDUN THRUST EXPECTED BY PARIS

Paris, Oct. 23.—Many observers here believe the French army will soon make a mighty thrust in the Verdun region, an effort much greater than that which brought about the battle of the Somme. A correspondent returning from Verdun reports seeing a new hospital behind the front there, in which 20,000 wounded could be comfortably accommodated. It had about a dozen patients. "Things may happen," was the laconic explanation of a French army officer.

CONVERT OF BILLY SUNDAY SPOKE HERE

LUCIAN A. EDDY OF SYRACUSE TOLD OF EXPERIENCE WITH EVANGELIST AT MEETING IN NORTH CHURCH.

Mr. Lucian A. Eddy, Bradstreet's representative for a large portion of New York state, a resident of Syracuse, N. Y., was the speaker at the Union Meeting in the North Church last evening. Mr. Eddy is an elderly man, over seventy years of age, and was far from being in proper condition to deliver his talk, having left sick bed on Saturday to keep his appointment. But he delivered a strong talk, telling the story of his life from youth to the present.

Mr. Eddy said that as a young man, he had paid little attention to the subject of religion, drifting through the years until old age overtook him with little thought about the future life. A short time ago he went to hear the Rev. William A. Sunday while he was holding his session at Syracuse and Sunday's preaching had urged him to become one of his "trall hitters." Mr. Eddy was not able to speak as he had wished, or intended on account of his health, but for thirty minutes he held his audience with his wonderful story of his conversion after a lifetime of thoughtless living.

CURRENT OPINION
Municipal Service Suffers Because Capable Men Refuse to Stand Mud Slinging.
One of the chief reasons why there are not more capable men in municipal office is that officeholding exposes men to accusations and humiliations they do not have to endure in private life. The officeholder must submit to misrepresentation of his views and actions. He is misunderstood. Continually it is intimated his actions and motives are not what they should be, for no matter what officer he may be or how diligently he tries to do his duty his opponents will maintain he is guided by politics and will say that he is grafting.
To be elected to office today one must experience the slams and slants of a political campaign. During such a campaign any one can say whatever he cares to about the candidates.
The inconvenience suffered through these campaigns and the mudslinging of opponents keep many good men out of office.
Our private corporations have no difficulty in getting big men for big offices. Public service needs these big men as much as private corporations need them. To get them municipal corporations must adopt the methods of the private corporations. We must learn to get big men into office by paying them what their services are worth.—By Charles P. Steinmetz, Famous Electrical Engineer.

AUSTRIAN CABINET WILL RESIGN
New Cabinet Will Be Immediately Formed Following the Resignation.
(Special to The Herald)
Paris, Oct. 23.—The Austrian cabinet will resign tomorrow, according to dispatches received here today. A new cabinet is expected to be formed immediately following the resignation of the present government. The reported decision is the result of the assassination of Premier Sturgis. The new Premier will likely be either Prince Hohenlohe-Schillingsfuerst, Baron von Beck, former foreign minister, or former Minister of Finance, Dr. Koerber.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Justice to Mr. Olney.
(From the Boston Herald)
Collier's Weekly gives editorial space to an alleged remark of Grover Cleveland to some intimate friends that Mr. Richard Olney, his secretary of state, had no part in the framing of the famous Venezuelan message of December, 1895. We are happy to be in a position to refute this statement by publishing in another column the dispatch of our Washington correspondent, who has looked into the matter and found conclusive evidence that not only did Mr. Olney write the original draft of Mr. Cleveland's message but that the latter expressly authorized him to do so.

The evidence is documentary, whereas the alleged remarks of Mr. Cleveland, published in Collier's Weekly, are no more than random quotations based on the memory of some friends. It is possible that they misunderstood his remark. We realize more keenly today than ever before how far the temperance of one man can affect our foreign policies and in the light of present experience the assumption of the Venezuelan message assumes new importance.

Mr. Olney is now supporting President Wilson. The significance which we attribute to this support springs largely from our belief that Mr. Olney was one of our most notable and most successful secretaries of state. To say that he had no part in the message which brought England to terms is sadly to lessen his prestige. Whatever effect the truth may have upon Mr. Wilson's political fortunes, we feel in making it known we do a distinct service to the cause of historical accuracy and to the reputation of a very distinguished New England statesman.

Reorganization For Germany
(From a report of the Autumnal Assembly of the Congressional Union of England and Wales, at Birmingham, Sir Oliver Lodge presiding.)
The chairman said that the problems after the war would indeed be numerous. The next twenty years would be an extremely interesting but very strenuous time. It would be a misfortune if the war ended too soon and without a definite crisis and understandable result. (Hear, hear.) There must be no half-hearted peace. The nations must realize that wrong-doing did not flourish, and that just as nothing succeeded like success, so nothing failed like failure. That failure must be brought home to the people in the land of our foes. They must learn how they had been misled, misguided, deceived by the system of government. For the last forty years they had had wrong ideals. They must work out their own salvation. They must change their constitution, their mode of government. They must effect changes for themselves before they could be admitted again to the international friendship which for the time they had sadly forfeited.

A Matter of Resources
(From the Brooklyn Eagle)
The final humiliation of Charles W. Morse must have been to have his salary as steamboat president garnished and be compelled to pay each week $32.30 on a $11,000 judgment. The best guess is that he will not take the full ten years to pay up. He is a very resourceful man.

In Return for Navarino
(From the New York Evening Post)
Modern Greece came into being through the action of Great Britain, France, and Russia, whose fleets in the battle of Navarino ninety years ago broke the Turkish power. These three are the Allies who have now recognized the Independent Government which Venezuela has set up in Crete. There is no use in attempting to reconcile the recognition of an insurrectionary government with the maintenance of formally proper relations with the government, against which the insurrection is directed. By all diplomatic and international precedent the situation in Greece is quite impossible. It is probable that if the removal of Constantinople from power could be effected with little trouble, the Allies would not hesitate to effect it. They might claim the sanction of half the nation behind them, and more than that, the right of self-defence. There is no doubt the fear of what the Athens Government may do in the rear of the Allied battalions is handicapping military operations in Macedonia. King Constantine is doubtless the best-informed man in Europe regarding the exact situation on both

PEOPLES' OPINIONS.
Takes Another View of It
I read the piece in your paper concerning the boys playing football in Goodwin Park. I live directly opposite and am home every evening. So far, I have not been the least bit disturbed by the noise nor have I heard any of my neighbors complain. As far as the monument is concerned, there seems to be but little danger. The boys do not play near that; it would be a little difficult, I might add also, that a great many people are easily disturbed.

ANOTHER WEST ENDER.
COLONIAL THEATRE.
There are picture shows and picture shows, but there is only one Colonial picture show, the boss of them all. When the Colonial advertises a picture show it's a safe bet that it is good all the way through. Poor pictures as we see at the Colonial as shamrocks in German coat lapels.
The picture program for today and tomorrow is a case in point. "Dorian's Divorce," a Metro wonderplay in five parts, is one of the good things on the bill of fare. Dorian, played by Lionel Barrymore, is one of the most lovable scoundrels who ever wandered in front of a movie camera. Miss Grace Valentine as his wife has an excellent part for her type of beauty and style of expression, and these two with the big and capable cast supporting them see to it that there are no dull moments in the entire play.

When the play opens, Mr. Barrymore is seen as the prosperous young broker, with comical difficulties. Fleeing from a scrape into which his imprudently leads him, he assumes the dress and character of a knight of the road, later selling his steam yacht and ship-pling about her as a stoker. All through his performance runs the strain of careless nonchalance which characterizes Mr. Barrymore's acting.
Portland figures in the play as some of the most exciting scenes were filmed near that city, and aboard the U. S. revenue cutter Woodbury.
There is in addition to this picture a five-part Mutual Masterpiece, the current chapter in two reels of "The Yellow Menace," and other films of quality.
A five-piece orchestra will accompany the pictures.

THE SAFETY FIRST CLUB.
"The Safety First Club" is the title of a brand new book written by W. F. Nichols, managing editor of the Manchester Union. It is written for boys from ten to fifteen years of age, but because of its interest and vigor it would appeal to any one who likes a real boy's story. Sam Parker and his friends form the "Safety First Club." They try to live up to the name, but find that words are easier than deeds. They dislike a new boy in town and think they have ample ground for suspecting him. Then in a lumber camp they learn some new things about Tom Orkney and safety first. The problems which all healthy American boys encounter are pictured in the story and the characters are well drawn and likable human. Mr. Nichols realizes the responsibility of writing for the young and his book is strong, clean and inspiring. Every boy wants to read it.

ATTENTION! SONS OF VETERANS OF THE CIVIL WAR.
Headquarters Storer Post, No. 1, Department of New Hampshire, U. S. A. In pursuance of numerous requests of the sons of veterans residing in this city, in an effort to organize a "Camp" of Sons of Veterans, which shall be an auxiliary to Storer Post, at the regular meeting of the Post held on Oct. 13, it was unanimously voted that this appeal be heeded. It was therefore decided that the commander issue a call to all eligible persons to this laudable and patriotic undertaking to meet at these headquarters on Thursday evening, Oct. 26, at 7.30 o'clock.

In this patriotic movement, Storer Post is actuated by its intense desire that a Camp which shall be instituted and enjoy the honor and be worthy of the proud prestige of Storer Post, in the Department of New Hampshire; it is therefore most essential the Post shall have such an auxiliary. Storer Post, No. 1, has the proud distinction of being the pioneer of the Department, taking its provincial Charter from the Department of Massachusetts. It is, therefore, desired that this effort may be successful. With an abundance of material—said to be 150 strong—in this city, which includes many of the young business men, there should be no lack of interest among so many eligible to membership. With a Camp officered by men of ability who shall command the confidence and respect of the Post and our citizens, there can be no doubt of the prominence which will be accorded to the proposed Camp. It is earnestly requested that this call be generously responded to, so that Storer Post may have an auxiliary second to none in the Department.

The Grand Army of the Republic throughout the country, as well as the public, fully recognize the valuable aid rendered and as being a factor in the assistance to the comrades in their efforts in relieving the wants of their wards, the widows and orphans of deceased comrades.
Rally to this bugle call for Thursday evening, 26th inst. There should be a good attendance of the comrades of the Post.
M. H. BELL, Commander.
HENRY S. PAUL, Adjutant.

OUR LIGHTHOUSES
Portsmouth Harbor Light Was Erected in 1789 and Whalesback in 1829.
When Boston celebrated the centennial of its lighthouse this summer it suggested to Oliver L. Frisbee to find out how old were the lights in our harbor. A letter from G. R. Putnam, commissioner of the bureau of lighthouses, under date of Oct. 19, 1916, states that Whalesback light was built in 1829-31; had two white lights in one tower, one ten feet under the other. It was made a flash light in 1844, and one light then discontinued. The present tower was built in 1872 and the candle-power increased in 1912. A fog bell was installed in 1863 and a fog horn in 1878. Portsmouth lighthouse was built in 1759 and rebuilt in 1804. About 30 feet was cut off the tower in 1871. The present tower was built in 1877 and a fog signal built in 1896. Jeffrey Point and Frost Point light in Little harbor was established in 1839. Portsmouth light is 127 years old; Whalesback light 87 years old, among the oldest in the country.

BAITMORE SAILS FOR BOSTON.

GIRLS' CLUB NOTES
Tonight at 7 p. m. the committee for the coming dance will meet to make their plans. Club members and their friends should heartily support the dance. The proceeds will be used to defray expenses made necessary by change in rooms.
At 8 o'clock Dr. Boyer will give her second talk on Home Nursing. A short resume of the first talk will be given, and Miss Petrie, the district nurse will give another demonstration along the same lines. The inclemency of the weather on last Thursday evening made the attendance rather limited. But those who did come felt amply repaid for their efforts.
Until the hall is completed, the dancing class will be held on Monday night at the old club rooms, 15 Pleasant street. These rooms are now rented by Mrs. Boynton for her classes. A change in the hour has been necessary, the class meeting from 7.30 to 8.30, instead of 8 to 9 as in past years. Following this class Dr. Boyer will continue her talks on Home Nursing and First Aid.
It is hoped to have the first class in dancing on next Monday night, October 30th, that the regular schedule may be followed.
The entertainment committee will also meet Tuesday at 7 p. m. to make plans for the annual Halloween party. Miss Teresa Brooks is chairman of the committee.
A bridge party will be held at the club house on Tuesday. This party will be conducted in the same manner as those in previous years, only on a larger scale.

VIOLENT REAR GUARD FIGHTING
Russo-Roumanian Forces Being Hard Pressed in Dobrudja Region.
Petrograd, Oct. 23.—Violent rear-guard fighting is in progress in the Dobrudja region where the Russo-Roumanian forces are in retreat, in admitted by the Russian war office today. The retreat is still in progress, the dispatches add and the forces under Field Marshal Von Mackensen are pushing the retreating columns hard. Along the northern border of Roumania the Roumanians were able to gain some ground in the Trotus Ortuz and the Sille valleys, the report added.

INTEREST IS ABOUT EVENLY DIVIDED
English People Taking Unusual Interest in Presidential Campaign.
New York, Oct. 23.—After steering 170 miles out of her course to avoid attacks from German submarines, the White Star liner Lapland, arrived here today Henry T. Cozens-Hartley, an English political writer, one of the passengers on the liner stated that the English people were taking an unusual interest in the presidential campaign in this country with the interest about evenly divided between Mr. Hughes and President Wilson.

THE PRICE OF BREAD.

There has been much agitation of late in many parts of the country over the price of bread and the weight of loaves. The cost of materials entering into the manufacture of bread, especially flour, the chief ingredient, has advanced to such an extent that the bakers find themselves facing a difficult proposition when they attempt to supply bread at the old figures, but thus far there has been no general agreement as to how the situation shall be met. In some cases the weight of loaves has been reduced and in others the price has been raised, and the result has been a large amount of dissatisfaction on the part of consumers and a great amount of trouble and botheration for the bakers.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics has been looking into the matter, and a report recently given out from Washington makes clear the basic facts. It shows, as was already known, that the advance in the price of flour has been very pronounced. The price of wheat is 34 per cent higher than it was last May and the price of flour is 37 per cent higher. Because of this heavy increase in the cost of materials, other ingredients of bread having advanced in proportion, there have been, as stated, reductions in the weight of loaves and advances in the price of bread, which have led to an agitation that is practically country-wide.

It is not to be expected that the bakers can go on forever making bread at the old prices under such conditions, but the remedy would seem to be simple. In some states, if not all, there is a law fixing the weight of a loaf of bread, and this should be rigidly enforced. If the bakers cannot afford to sell at the old price let the price be raised, but let the weight of the loaf remain unchanged. That is the fair, square and direct way out of the dilemma, and the one that ought to be followed. If juggling with the weight of loaves is permitted, even as an emergency measure, it is liable to take a long time to get back to the solid basis on which the baking business has rested for some years, and no one would be better off except unscrupulous bakers who would take advantage of the situation and rob their customers. If bread cannot be produced at the old price the price should be raised, but a loaf should mean a loaf and not part of a loaf. The bakers are entitled to a living price and the people are entitled to what they buy. It is all a very simple question, and there is no reason why bread prices should not be adjusted as readily as the prices of other commodities without deception of any sort.

At the national convention of the German Evangelical Brotherhood in St. Louis a movement was begun to raise $1,000,000 for the education of young men for the ministry. According to common report, the proportion of college students looking toward the ministry has been decreasing in recent years, and the German Evangelical Brotherhood evidently feels that it is time to do something about it. And $1,000,000 ought to help some.

A man posing as a physician and acting as a burglar has been cutting a wide swath in Chicago for the last year and a half, but he is now in the hands of the law and his career along this line is apparently at an end. His method was to put his "patients" to sleep with drugs and strip their houses of jewelry and other valuables. The wonder is that he could operate so long before being brought to book.

Springfield, Mass., is having "the time of its life" with the greatest dairy show ever held in an eastern state. According to reports it is a splendid exhibit, yet some allowance must be made for the claim that the Bay State should raise all the food supplies its own people need and have a lot for export. Massachusetts isn't that kind of a state.

Perhaps it is not strange that timid mariners are seeing U-boats along the Atlantic coast more numerous than were sharks earlier in the season. And yet these monsters are not nearly so plentiful as were the big fishes. Thus far the evidence indicates that there has been only one of them "in our midst."

Baltimore experts think they have discovered the cause of infantile paralysis, but are wisely keeping their own counsel pending further investigation. There has been a good deal of foolish talk regarding the cause of this disease and it is well that it should cease until some actual facts are brought forward.

The mad king of Bavaria is dead after having spent a large part of his life in confinement. If some of the other rulers could have been confined with him the probability is that conditions in Europe today would not be what they are.

The short and easy road to fleeting prominence is for a member of one political party to come out for another and shout about it. And all parties have members who seem to get great satisfaction out of this sort of thing.

TWENTY-ONE DROWN WHEN SHIP FOUNDERS

Captain Only Survivor of Crew of Steamship James
B. Colgate on Lake Erie.

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 23.—News that the steamship James B. Colgate foundered in Lake Erie Friday night and that the crew of 21 men perished, was brought here yesterday by Captain Walter G. Grushaw, the sole survivor, who was rescued after being afloat on a raft 31 and a half hours.

The vessel went down off Long Point, Canada, off Erie. Captain Grushaw was landed at Conneaut, O., half dead from exposure to the fury of the storm.

Nineteen of the crew were sucked down to death when the big steel boat foundered and two others on the raft with the captain were washed off and drowned.

The Colgate sank during the night off what has been termed "Black Friday" in marine circles. Six men were lost when the steamer Filer, sank in Lake Erie on Friday, only Captain Mattison being saved. Earlier that night the steamer Marshall F. Butters foundered, but the crew of 13 men were saved.

Less than an hour after the Filer sank, the Colgate, largest of the three vessels, went down miles away. The loss of her crew has raised "Black Fridays" casualty list on Lake Erie to 21.

At first Grushaw was unable to tell the names of his two companions on the raft. When he recalled he said they were Second Engineer Harry Ossman of Cleveland, and a coal passer, whose name he did not know and who had shipped at Buffalo, N. Y., just before the Colgate left there Friday morning on its way to Fort William, Canada, with coal.

Captain Grushaw could be seen by his rescuers prostrate on the raft, his numbed hands wrapped around the ropes and his body lashed by the waves.

Fears were entertained today for the safety of the steamer Merida, bound down with pyrites from Port William, Ont. She was reported seen at ten o'clock Friday morning by the steamer Briton, 25 miles east of south east Shoals in Lake Erie, making heavy weather of it. The Briton got to Buffalo at noon today. The Merida should have been there eighteen hours earlier.

BEST LIVER AND BOWEL LAXATIVE FOR FAMILY USE

"Cascarets" regulate women, men and children without injury.

Take when bilious, headachy,
for colds, bad breath,
sour stomach.

Instead of nasty, harsh pills, salts, castor oil or dangerous calomel, why don't you keep Cascarets handy in your home? Cascarets act on the liver and thirty feet of bowels so gently you don't realize you have taken a cathartic, but they act thoroughly and can be depended upon when a good liver and bowel cleansing is necessary—they move the bile and poison from the bowels without griping and sweeten the stomach. You eat one or two at night like candy and you wake up feeling fine, the headache, biliousness, bad breath, coated tongue, sour stomach, constipation, or bad cold disappears. Mothers should give crows, sick, feverish or bilious children a whole Cascaret any time—they are harmless and safe for the little folks.

HAND RED WITH BLOOD KISSED BY WILSON

Roosevelt Made Serious Charges Against President in His Speech at Phoenix, Ariz. on Saturday Evening

Phoenix, Ariz., Oct. 21.—Speaking in his border state today before a sympathetic audience, Theodore Roosevelt charged that President Wilson had "kissed the hand that was red with blood of American men and women." He accused the President of direct and abject cowardice toward Mexico.

When the Englishman, Benton was killed, he said, not merely did England flame up, but far more interest was excited in this country, than was shown over all of our own men, women and children who were killed in Mexico.

Mr. Roosevelt dubbed the Atlantic conference over Mexico the "I-O-I convention." By this, he said, the President is trying to prop and bolster the tottering structure of Carranza's government.

But as soon as Carranza became strong, he concluded, he would turn against the United States. Wilson diplomacy would be paid for by this country in the bloodshed, suffering and disaster of war.

He said in part: "President Wilson has sinned heavily against Mexico," said Col. Roosevelt. "He has sinned against humanity. He has sinned most heavily against the United States. He has allowed Mexico to drift into bloody anarchy. Mexico needs peace and security. We can give peace and security to Mexico, but only if we show courage and resolution. If we fail, then some foreign power will in the end itself do the task, and make Mexico its servant to its own irreparable damage. Mr. Wilson is inviting this disaster."

"It cannot be a matter of indifference to us," Col. Roosevelt continued, "what kind of a Government arises in Mexico. Mexico, in its geographical and physical aspects, with the Panama Canal adjoining represents to this happened in Mexico offers 'the clearest possible illustration of what happens to any Nation whose Government behaves with the vacillation and timidity shown by Mr. Wilson in our foreign affairs wherever he has had to deal with any foe of whom he was in the slightest degree afraid.'

"In Mexico when the Revolution gathered headway, there were many foreigners. There were English, Germans, Japanese and French. There were also Americans, Spaniards and Chinese. Mexico was afraid of and respected Germany, England, Japan and France. She neither feared nor respected the United States or China; and she did not believe that Spain at the moment could act against her."

"In consequence it appears that during these disturbances, as far as can be gathered, there has not been one German killed in Mexico, and only one Englishman and two Frenchmen. I can not find that any Japanese were killed. These figures may not be quite accurate, but they are substantially accurate."

"The minute the Frenchmen were killed the French Government served such summary notice on Mexico that it has been exceedingly careful not to kill any others. When the Englishman, Benton, was killed, not merely did England flame up, but it is actually true that far more interest was excited in this country than was shown over all of our own men, women and children who were killed in Mexico. There have been no further outrages on the lives of British subjects."

"The Germans are not only safe, but at Tampico, for instance, enjoy special privileges. The Japanese enjoy the same consideration. But meanwhile, according to the best information at our disposal, the Mexicans have killed over 300 Chinese, over 500 Americans and at least 200 Spaniards. I ask you to consider these facts."

What Should Have Been Done
"Mr. Wilson and his followers are fond of asking, when we criticize his action, 'What would you have done?' Either one of two courses could properly have been followed. It would have been defensible to have recognized Huerta. In view of the fact that other great Powers had recognized him. In such event we would have held Huerta to 'strict responsibility' by acts for restoring order in Mexico and for protecting American life and property."

"This course would have been defensible. Personally, it seems to me that it would have been even better to have done exactly what Mr. Wilson said he would do, but did not do. He said to Congress on August 27th, 1913: 'We should let everyone who assumes to exercise authority in any part of Mexico know in the most unequivocal way that we shall vigilantly watch the fortunes of those Americans who cannot get away, and shall hold those responsible for their sufferings and losses to a definite reckoning. This can be and will be put beyond the possibility of a misunderstanding.'"

"On the same day he sent to the American Consul-General and consular agents in Mexico, two telegrams instructing them to notify all officials, military or civil, exercising authority, that they would be held strictly responsible for any harm done to Americans or for injury to their property."

"Mr. Wilson's notice was explicit and emphatic. If he had meant what he said, and if he had possessed the smallest fraction of the resolution and courage of such a Democratic President as Andrew Jackson, he would have acted at once against every leader, whether Huerta, Villa or Carranza, or anyone else who permitted injury to American life and property, or who failed to prevent it; and if necessary, he would have sent some such man as Gen. Leonard Wood into the country to behave precisely as we behaved in Cuba, to rehabilitate Mexico and to restore her to her people just as we did in the case of Cuba, when order and civilization again obtained in the country."

Michael O'Connell and John H. Kelley were arrested on a charge of mutual assault on Sunday morning at 9.30 on High street. The two men were in the street attempting to settle their differences of opinion when Officers Kelley and Anderson appeared on the scene. The angry-up wagon removed the fighters to the quiet and calm of the city hall annex.

An assassination started the European war. Will that one in Austria have any effect on bringing it to a close?

THREE CAPTURED BY POLICE FOR SALOON BREAK

GOODS FOUND ON MEN BELIEVED TO HAVE BEEN TAKEN AFTER THEY HAD ENTERED THE PLACE BY BREAKING A WINDOW.

Shortly before 2.00 o'clock the front window of the saloon of Hotel Constantino, 27 Water street, was broken and several quart bottles of whiskey removed through the hole. The break was discovered fifteen minutes later by Patrolman Murphy and reported to the station. At 8.30 Patrolmen McLean and Gray had arrested on Congress street three men who were carrying quart bottles of liquor which is believed by the police to have been taken from the store. The men arrested are Israel Wallace, Andrew J. Connors and Guy Perodan, all three enlisted men in the navy. They were booked on a charge of breaking and larceny.

Captain Burke started an investigation as soon as Officer Murphy made his report of the break. Neighbors reported three sailors having been seen hanging about the vicinity of the saloon and a fairly good description was obtained of the men. The brand of goods taken from the place was learned from Mr. Constantino. John Clark reported that he had passed some of this description in front of the saloon and as he reached Liberty street the crash of a broken window was heard at 6.55 o'clock.

As no other dealer in the city carries this brand of goods in stock and as the men told conflicting stories as to where they bought the goods and whether it was Saturday or Sunday, they were held for arraignment in the Municipal Court this morning.

An Inside Bath Makes You Look and Feel Fresh

Says a glass of hot water with phosphate before breakfast keeps illness away.

This excellent, common-sense health measure being adopted by millions.

Physicians the world over recommend the inside bath, claiming this is of vastly more importance than outside cleanliness, because the skin pores do not absorb impurities into the blood, causing ill health, while the pores in the ten yards of bowels do. Men and women are urged to drink each morning, before breakfast a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, as a harmless means of helping to wash from the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and purifying the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Just as soap and hot water cleanse and freshen the skin, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the eliminative organs.

Those who wake up with bad breath, coated tongue, nasty taste or have a dull, aching head, sallow complexion, acid stomach; others who are subject to bilious attacks or constipation, should obtain a quarter pound of limestone phosphate at the drug store. This will cost very little but is sufficient to demonstrate the value of inside bathing. Those who continue it each morning are assured of pronounced results, both in regard to health and appearance.

Interested in Richard C. Wood Held on Money Order Charge.

Concord, Oct. 23.—Just who Richard C. Wood, who gives his address as Roxbury, Mass., really is, is now baffling the Concord police. Wood was arrested at Walpole last week on the charge of raising a money order from one dollar to a thousand and is being held at the local jail in default of the $1,000 bail which was set by United States Commissioner Burns P. Hodgman for appearance at the next session of the United States court, when Wood appeared before the commissioner after his removal from Walpole to this city by United States Marshal Charles J. O'Neill.

No special thought has been given the name until yesterday, when Marshal A. S. Kimball replied a letter from the Boston police asking for a photograph and the fingerprints of Wood, whom they think might have some connection with Richard C. Isherwood, who is wanted by the Boston officials on several counts. Police Officer J. Edward Silva took the fingerprints and Wood was also photographed during the day. The local department is now awaiting developments.

TAKE SALTS TO FLUSH KIDNEYS

EAT LESS MEAT IF YOU FEEL BACKACHE OR HAVE BLADDER TROUBLE

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eating of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acid, waste and poisons, also you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. This urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salt is made from the acids of grapes and lemon juice combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

SCHOOL HEAD ADMITS GUILT

Though Married, He Tried to Win Wife of Dental Student.

Chicago, Oct. 23.—Confronted by evidence that he had written more than 100 letters attacking the reputation of one of his women teachers, John Henry Bell, principal of the Morgan Park high school, after an all-night grilling in the office of the board of education, confessed today that he had attempted to wreck the teacher's home to win her for his sweetheart.

Nell's resignation was accepted and on his promise to leave Chicago within 12 hours it was agreed that he should not be prosecuted.

Nell has a wife and five children and the woman to whom he wrote, Mrs. Marie Moore, is married to Oliver G. Moore, a dental student at Northwestern university. She was teaching to pay his tuition.

BRITISH U-BOAT SINKS CRUISER WITH TORPEDO

REPORTS THAT PRUSSIAN CRAFT REMAINED AFLOAT ALTHOUGH IN EVIDENT DISTRESS.

London, Oct. 22.—A Prussian light cruiser has been torpedoed by a British submarine. The cruiser remained afloat, although she apparently suffered considerable damage. The announcement by the Admiralty reads:—

"A British submarine just returned from the North Sea reports that she torpedoed a German light cruiser of the Kiltberg class early Thursday morning. When last seen the cruiser was steaming slowly in evident difficulties toward German waters."

Austrian Premier Assassinated

Vienna, Oct. 22.—The Austrian Premier, Count Karl Sturgkh, was assassinated while at dinner today by Ludwig Adler, a publisher, who shot him three times. Count Sturgkh was dining at a hotel when the publisher attacked him. All the shots took effect, the Premier dying instantly.

Snow Checks Fighting

London.—Snow is falling in the Carpathians and the Transylvanian Alps, putting an end to General von Falkenhayn's hopes of a speedy conquest of Roumania and reassuring King Ferdinand, whose paucity words last week somewhat disconcerted the Allies. The entry of Roumania into the war extended the Austro-Prussian lines by 370 miles around the frontier of Transylvania, from Dorna Water in the north to Orsova on the Danube. Austria evidently did not anticipate the move, and when hostilities came the line was very thinly guarded. This accounts for the preliminary success of the Roumanian dash through the mountain passes, the capture of Kronstadt and the attack on Hermannstadt. Prussians rushed to the aid of the Austrians, large armies were thrown into Transylvania and Field Marshal von Mackensen was sent to the Dobrudja. Berlin's idea was to crush Roumania before the Allies could come to her assistance, overrun the country like Belgium and Serbia and thus obviate the necessity of defending such a long line against the expected general offensive of the Allies next spring. The Roumanians were driven back from the valleys of the Aluta and the Maros. Kronstadt was recaptured and the Austro-Prussians in turn became the invaders.

Five Ships Sunk

London.—The sinking of five steamships, two British and three neutral, with the loss of at least eight lives, is announced by Lloyd's. The British steamships sunk were the Huguenot, of Newcastle, and the Marchioness of Glasgow. The crews of both are reported to have been landed.

The neutral vessels sunk were the Athens and Haudrot, of Norwegian registry, and the Swedish steamship Alfrid. Eight of the crew of the Alfrid were lost and the remainder were saved. The crew of the Haudrot was rescued.

The Huguenot of 1,032 gross tons, was built in Newcastle in 1902. The Marchioness measured 556 gross tons and was built at Troon, Scotland in 1899. The Alfrid of 177 tons, was owned in Gothenburg.

Maritime records do not mention the Athens and Haudrot. There is a Norwegian steamship, the Athens, of 1,347 gross tons, owned in Kragero, and a Norwegian steamer, the Haudrot, of 1,400 gross tons, which passed Gibraltar on September 26 for Oran.

Prussians Make Gains in the Dobrudja

Berlin, via London.—Prussian troops have forced their way into several points of the main positions of the Russians and Roumanians south of Buchova (on the Danube) in the Dobrudja. The troops of the Central Powers captured the Black Sea town of Tuzla, after stubborn fighting, and stormed the heights northwest of Topral Sari and the heights northwest of Muleclova. Some three thousand Russians have been captured by the Teuton and Bulgarian forces and twenty-two machine guns were taken. The foregoing was announced in the official statement issued today by the German Army Headquarters, which says:

"The allied Prussian, Bulgarian and Turkish troops forced their way at several points into the enemy's main position on the line south of Rachova (on the Danube, Agemlar and Tuzla), and after stubborn fighting took Tuzla and the heights northwest of Topral Sari, north of Cocarcea and northwest of Muleclova. Twenty-two machine guns and one mine thrower were captured."

"On the Transylvania frontier successful fighting continued in the woods and mountains, accompanied by snow falls and frosts. The Roumanians suffered heavy losses during these engagements."

BOSTON OPERA HOUSE

The Boston Opera House will throw open its doors for the regular season this Monday, evening, when the Aborn Opera Company will begin its engagement with "The Jewels of the Madonna," by Wolf-Ferrari, as the initial attraction. The seat sale has already started at the box office and at the down-town ticket office, 162 Boylston Street, and present indications are entirely favorable for a very prosperous engagement. In accordance with Manager Lawrence McCarthy's policy of low prices, a dollar will purchase the best seat for any of the operas. This is a significant departure, in view of the prominence of the artists engaged and the elaborateness of the productions.

"The Jewels of the Madonna," which is the bill announced as the initial attraction, and which will be repeated at the Wednesday matinee has a cast of superior excellence. It includes Salvatore Giordano as Gennaro; Milla Picco as Haraclio; Marie Louise Biggers as Carmela; Blanca Saroya as Mallela, and George Shields as Rocco. For Wednesday afternoon's performance the cast will be the same except that Louis D'Angelo will play the role of Ruffalo and Lillian Eubank will be the Carmela.

For the balance of the week the Aborn Company will give five other operas, as follows: "Madam Butterfly" for Tuesday evening, with Edith Helena as Cho-Cho-San; Marie Louise Biggers as Suzuki; Giuseppe Agostini as Pinkerton; Milla Picco as Sharpless; Louis Derman as Goro, and George Shields as Yamadori and Bonze. This bill will be repeated for the Saturday matinee, when the role of Cho-Cho-San will be sung by Blanca Saroya; Pinkerton by Salvatore Giordano; Suzuki by Marie Louise Biggers, and Sharpless by Louis D'Angelo. Wednesday night's opera will be "Lucia di Lammermoor," with Edith Helena as Lucia; Giuseppe Agostini as Edgar; Milla Picco as Henry, and George Shields as Hildebrandt; Thursday night, "Samson and Delilah," with Giuseppe Agostini as Samson; Lillian Eubank as Delilah; Louis D'Angelo as the High Priest and George Shields as the Old Hebrew; Friday night, "Lohengrin," with Giuseppe Agostini as Lohengrin; Edith Helena as Elsa; Lillian Eubank as Ortrud; Louis D'Angelo as Telramund, and George Shields as the King. Saturday night "Il Trovatore" is the bill announced, with Edith Helena as Leonora; Marie Louise Biggers as Azucena; Giuseppe Agostini as Manrico; Milla Picco as Count di Luna, and George Shields as Ferrando.

For the week of October 30th—the second and last week of the engagement—the operas to be given are as follows: Monday night "La Boheme"; Tuesday night "Thais"; Wednesday matinee "Samson and Delilah"; Wednesday night "The Jewels of the Madonna"; Thursday night "Lohengrin"; Friday night "Madam Butterfly"; Saturday matinee "Thais"; Saturday night "Rigoletto."

"Hip, Hip, Hooryay"

On Monday evening, November 13, Charles Dillingham's New York Hippodrome spectacle, "Hip, Hip, Hooryay," will begin its season at the Boston Opera House. The event is one which will be of interest to all New England, and more especially as Boston is the only city privileged to see this record-breaking pageant in its original completeness. It is one of the very few cities in the United States with an opera house of adequate facilities and capacity to stage a real Hippodrome show. The entire organization, which rehabilitated the Hippodrome last season and restored the world's biggest playhouse to a place in the sun, has been reassembled, including Sousa and his Band, Charlotte the greatest of all skaters, Nat M. Willis, Charles T. Aldrich and all the other favorite stars.

IS CHRIST YOUR ADVOCATE WITH GOD?

He is the Advocate For Fully Consecrated Believers Only.

Those Alone Who Have Taken the Steps of Repentance, Faith and Consecration Can Fully Understand God's Plan.—The Meek and the Broken-Hearted Now Sought by the Lord. God's Message Not a Hammer to Break Hard Hearts—These to Be Broken Later—This Age Set Apart For Gathering the Lord's Jewels.

Dallas, Texas, Oct. 22.—Pastor Russell addressed the I. R. S. A. Convention here today. His theme was, "Christ the Advocate of the Church," and his text, "We have an Advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the Righteous."—1 John 2:1.

The speaker reviewed, from the standpoint of a court of law, the Divine Plan for human salvation. He showed that the perfect man Adam was on trial for everlasting life before the Supreme Judge of the Universe; that Adam failed to clear himself of the charge of disobedience, and that the Court had passed upon him the extreme penalty of the Divine Law—death. He explained that, as a privilege by Divine arrangement, our Lord Jesus became suitable to be a ransom-price for Adam and the unborn race condemned to death in him; that our Lord provided that ransom-price by Divine arrangement by His sacrificial death. He deposited that ransom-price in the hands of Divine Justice, as sufficient to secure the release of the whole world from death, and the cancellation of Adam's condemnation, as soon as the Church has been glorified. Meanwhile, our Lord is the Advocate of the Church, to whom is imputed the merit of His death.

For some time the speaker has been deeply impressed with the thought that no one can have a proper understanding and appreciation of the Divine Plan unless he has taken the steps of repentance from sin, of faith in Christ's atoning sacrifice, and of full consecration to God. One living in unrepented of sin is in no condition to receive Heavenly things; for God has declared that "none of the wicked shall understand." (Dan. 12:10.) He does not wish His great Plan of the Ages to be understood by the wicked or even by those who prefer earthly things.

The Divine Message speaks peace to those who are in trouble and who are looking to God for the righteousness which He will provide. Some have made a great mistake in thinking that preaching is a hammer whereby to break men's hearts. The Lord has commissioned no one to do so. During the great time of trouble, even now coming upon the world, many hard hearts will be broken, and thus brought into a humble, teachable condition, where the voice of God may be heard. During the Incoming Age the Lord will take away the stoniness of heart from mankind and give them hearts of flesh instead.—Ezekiel 11:19-21; 36:25-27.

The Work of the Advocate.

But now, in advance of Messiah's Kingdom, God is seeking those whose hearts are already broken. (Isaiah 61:1-3.) Whoever would become a follower of Jesus must not only turn from sin, but must give to God both himself and all that he has or hopes to have. He must renounce his human nature in order to be begotten to the spiritual nature, to be thenceforth a New Creature in Christ. (2 Corinthians 5:17.) Then Jesus becomes his Advocate; and he receives the imputation of the merit of Christ's sacrificial death, as a covering of all his natural imperfections.

An advocate is a lawyer, an attorney, a representative at a law court. All mankind, represented in Father Adam, stood before God's Court, and were sentenced to death in Him. (1 Corinthians 15:21.) If any of the Adam race would now come back to the Divine Court and ask that the record of sin be blotted out as far as he was concerned, the Heavenly Court would say, "We cannot receive you; for we do not receive sinners. The only way to approach us is through the Advocate whom we have provided—Jesus Christ."

Our Lord became the Church's Advocate when He ascended on High and appeared in the Divine presence for His followers. (Hebrews 9:24.) A lawyer goes into court and appears for his client, giving his name as that client's representative. Thenceforth the court refers to the lawyer whatever it has to say regarding that particular case. It was the Divine arrangement that our Lord appear for the whole Church at once. God had already foreordained the number of the Elect and the character which they must attain. (Romans 8:29, 30; 12:1.) The work of the entire Gospel Age is to find this class.

When Christ appeared in the Heavenly Court for His Church, He made a presentation of His sacrificial merit on their behalf. He advocates their cause by imputing to them the merit of His sacrifice, thus making them presentable in the Father's presence and acceptable as sons of God. Because of this advocacy those who offer themselves in full consecration to God through the Redeemer are begotten as New Creatures in Christ.

PAYS $172.33 FOR SHORTS

York Man Had 160 Shell Fish in His Possession.

Fred L. Coleman of York was arraigned in the Yorkshire court of South Berwick last Friday on a charge of having received stolen goods and was fined $1 for each lobster and in his possession. He pleaded guilty and was fined $1 for each lobster and costs of court amounting to $172.33 which he paid. Fish Warden Doyle of Biddeford and Ricker of Saco appeared against the defendant.

A Sanford young man it is claimed has received an invitation to step up and pay $1 a piece for two dozen short lobsters which were found in his possession by Warden Ricker. The young man has no connection whatever with the short lobster business except that he went to Cape Porpoise with a friend to fish and while in the vicinity bought or was given two dozen shorts for his own consumption, which he had in a shorts bag and which lay on the run where he was fishing when the warden discovered them.

Packard Pianos are good to come home to.

You do not regret the end of the ride when there is a Packard in the home. The Packard is always ready with a cheery welcome—always responsive to whatever mood you are in. If you come back exhilarated, the Packard will be as lively as you like; if you come back a bit subdued, the Packard is full of sympathy. The Packard seems to know, and to enjoy being played.
